

The Asia Foundation

South Asia Small Grants Program (SASGP)

Guidance for Applicants

1. BACKGROUND

The Asia Foundation<sup>1</sup> (TAF) manages the South Asia Small Grants Program (SASGP). The SASGP will provide small grants to eligible Civil Society Organizations (CSOs) in five South Asian countries: Bangladesh, Bhutan, Maldives, Nepal and Sri Lanka. Designed as a flexible mechanism to respond to existing contexts and emerging opportunities, the open grant window will support CSOs to work on critical governance challenges around four core themes:

- Increasing public sector accountability and transparency;
- Strengthening the rule of law;
- Promoting civil society participation and media in these efforts; and
- Strengthening democratic institutions and practices.

The five South Asian countries of Bangladesh, Bhutan, Maldives, Nepal, and Sri Lanka have unique political contexts, governance challenges, and civil society operating environments. While governance challenges in the areas of rule of law, transparency and accountability and civil society participation exist in all of them, the intensity of the problem varies in each. TAF's six decades of experience working with democracy and governance-focused CSOs in South Asia has also revealed that significant gaps exist in civil society capacity to carry out its mandate to ensure a healthy governing system. This requires targeted organizational development assistance, particularly around finance and accounting, advocacy skills, building coalitions, and augmenting their influence in state agencies. The practical application of grants management can support advancing these capacities.

In conjunction with low capacity are increasing limitations on and control of civil society space across South Asia, which continues to undermine democratic governance values in the region. TAF recognizes the issues and challenges of programming across these five countries and the need to tailor program strategies to country specific socio-economic and political environments. To respond to these challenges and address the broader goal of creating a free and open South Asian region, SASGP will strive to increase CSO-led policy reforms, constructive engagements, and social accountability in core areas of governance; open up and enlarge the space for civil society to engage with and influence key democratic institutions in the region; and increase the capacity of CSOs to effectively pursue longer-term reform in the governance sector.

2. OBJECTIVES OF THE SOUTH ASIA SMALL GRANTS PROGRAM

The long-term goal of the SASGP is to create a free and open South Asian region. This is only possible through the protection and promotion of a vibrant and constructive space for civil society to engage with the governments of the region and champion good governance.

To contribute to this broader goal, SASGP hopes to support civil society to achieve three main objectives:

- 1) To promote greater transparency, accountability, rule of law, and responsiveness in their respective governments;
- 2) To broaden the space to meaningfully engage with democratic institutions including those related to the criminal justice sector, anti-corruption bodies, human rights commissions, election administration, parliament, media and local governments;
- 3) To enhance the internal capacity, knowledge base, and programming capabilities of CSOs through capacity development inputs from SASGP.

3. FUNDING OPPORTUNITY

TAF invites all eligible CSOs in Bangladesh, Bhutan, Maldives, Nepal, and Sri Lanka to submit proposals for funding projects under the South Asia Small Grants Program (SASGP). The small grant window is open to innovative and actionable proposals to deliver results that contribute to the above objectives in four domains: Fiscal and Institutional Domain, Political Domain, Informational Domain and Social Domain. The following table provides a list of priority areas under each of the domains that SASGP proposes to fund for Bangladesh.

Program Areas
Fiscal and Institutional Domain
Core Objective: Institutional and fiscal integrity strengthened

TAF reserves the right to fund any or none of the applications submitted. Further, TAF reserves the right to make no awards as a result of this Call.

5. APPLICATION REVIEW INFORMATION

Selection Criteria:

Each concept note submitted under this opportunity will be evaluated and rated by a Technical Evaluation Panel on the basis of an evaluation matrix detailed below. The criteria outlined in the matrix are designed to assess the quality of the concept note, and to determine the likelihood of its success. The criteria are closely related and are considered as a whole in judging the overall quality of the concept note. Applications will be reviewed on the basis of their fullness, coherence, clarity, and attention to detail.

Concept Note Evaluation Matrix:

- Quality of the project idea and project planning (50 Points): This relates to your problem statement, approach, how innovative your project idea is and how well it fits with the broader Domain Objective (s).
- Ability to achieve project objectives (25 Points): This is related to how well your goals, objectives, activities, outputs and outcomes are articulated and linked.
- Institution's record and organizational capacity (15 Points): This is related to the quality of the personnel deputed to the project and the organization's capacity statement.
- Value for money (10 points): This relates how you plan to deliver value, your project costing, cost-effectiveness, and how your personnel inputs are priced.

Review and Selection Process:

- Each application will initially be reviewed against the organizational eligibility criteria given above (this corresponds to the information provided in the Application Form) and screened for alignment with the thematic areas. All shortlisted applications found to be eligible will be forwarded to a Technical Evaluation Panel of experts.
- The Technical Evaluation Panel will evaluate, score and rank the shortlisted applications based on the Concept Note Evaluation Matrix given above. The highest-ranking concept notes will be selected for funding.
- If your concept note is selected for an award, TAF will invite representatives from your organization (including the Team Lead) to attend a project development workshop. Apart from M&E frameworks, reporting requirements and detailed budgeting, the workshop will also contain voluntary modules on developing a full-scale proposal.
- After the workshop all grantees will be required to submit a detailed project proposal.
- Once the proposals are received, full scale due diligence and budget negotiations will be carried out and Letters of Grant will be issued immediately after.
- All applicants will be sent a written response on the outcome of their application. The overall process will take an average of 2 to 3 months.
