Strengthening Skills and Capacity of Elected Women Representatives in Local Governance

Within the Australian Government-The Asia Foundation Partnership, Samjhauta Nepal, is implementing a mixed-method need assessment to identify the skills, capacity and operational knowledge of locally elected women representatives. The study will follow the development of training/skills curriculum that are responsive to the identified priorities of the elected representatives. The attached questionnaire is being used by Samjhauta Nepal.

QUESTIONNAIRE

Namaskar, I am [insert name]. I would like to inform you that the Samjhauta Nepal is undertaking a need/capacity assessment study of newly elected women representatives in all the seven provinces. The main objective of this study is to identify the skills, capacity and knowledge of the elected women representatives to develop the meaningful capacity development programs that support the local development process. I appreciate your help to make this exercise a success.
